

Today we have a new Patron, and new law in New York that will shake up the ENTIRE GENEALOGY WORLD - even outside the United States - the Weprin-Montgomery Law. Oh, and we have two brilliant cake recipes. One is from an Army wife friend of my grandmother's in the 1940s or 1950s, but the other is genuinely the oldest recipe I've been able to find in my family's trove. If you like apple cake or chocolate cake (or both), you are in the right place. Get ready to take notes, because these are fantastic recipes that you will not find elsewhere! And remember, if you want to have yours on the show, send them in to me, or contact me and you can come on the show to present them and the ancestors from whom they originate.
